

Rene Petties-Jones is the President of the National Federation for Just Communities of WNY, Inc. and a member of the Community Foundation for Greater Buffalo's Racial Equity Roundtable. She currently serves on the PRSA (Public Relations Society of America) Northeast District Board of Directors as their first ever DEI Officer, and is Vice Chair for the National PRSA Diversity Committee. Rene has served as a member of the National PRSA Nominating committee and is currently Chair of the Board of Directors for the National Federation for Just Communities serving affiliates from across the country and internationally.

A proud University at Buffalo Alum, Rene has received the May C. Randazzo Outstanding Practitioner Award from PRSA Buffalo Niagara and the Women of Influence Award, Behind the Scenes, from Buffalo Business First. She is also on the Business First Power 200 Buffalo list for 2021, 2022, and 2023. Rene is on the inaugural Power 100 Business Leaders of Color list also from Business First. She recently received the inaugural Black Excellence Diversity Award from Tapestry Charter School. Additionally, she is a Rockwood Institute Fellow, a member of the Oishei Leaders of Color Cohort 3, an FBI Citizens Academy graduate, and a member of the Commission on PR Education Research Panel.

Rene is a former member of the Buffalo News Diversity Advisory Board and currently sits on the Superintendent Advisory Board for the Williamsville School District, the Alberti Center for Bullying Prevention, the Editorial Advisory Board for the Buffalo Healthy Living Magazine, the President's Advisory Council for Buffalo State University, in addition to numerous other committees and advisory boards.

