

Breauna O. Crumpler is a Vice President and Private Client Advisor II at Bank of America Private Bank based in Buffalo, New York. She works closely with clients to address a range of wealth management needs. She leads a team of Private Bank specialists who work in concert to design and implement tailored financial strategies in investment management, trust and estate planning services, liquidity-event preparation, lending, and philanthropy.

Breauna is passionate about helping families and business owners reach their financial goals. Prior to joining Bank of America Private Bank (formerly U.S. Trust) in 2019, she served as a Small Business Banker in Seattle, Washington, an experience which enhanced her insight into the wealth management needs of business owners and their families in a major growth market.

Breauna is deeply dedicated to effecting positive community change. In 2016 she chartered the Seattle Chapter of the Black Professional Group at Bank of America to encourage associates to give back to the community they serve while simultaneously investing in themselves through professional development in order to achieve upward mobility within the company. Since relocating back to Buffalo, she joined Bank of America's leadership council within LEAD for Women, the Career Development Event Coordination Team, and the Private Bank and Upstate NY's Diversity & Inclusion Council. Breauna continues to spend much of her time volunteering throughout the city, building community through her actions. She is both a member of the Board of Trustees, as well as the Advancement and Diversity Committee, at Explore & More-The Ralph C. Wilson, Jr. Children's Museum.

Additionally, she is a member of the Board of Trustees, the Women's Economic Mobility and the ALL-IN Committee, for the WNY Women's Foundation, and she also serves on the board for SUNY Erie's Foundation. In 2022, Breauna was featured in Buffalo Business First and The Buffalo News for her hard work and effort in the community.

Breauna holds a B.S. in sociology and an MBA. She is a member of the National Black MBA Association.
